VVVVVT.!!"

Tod

Hey im here

Alright I'll be right out

Howdy.

Heyy!

so um...

how did your thing go?

It was alright, I guess.

Only one person showed much interest at all in what I'm trying to do, the rest couldn't have given a lesser crap kind of discouraging, honestly.

At least we're getting started though. I sent out a few emails that might make some progress.

How about you, how was your day?

Well, um, the first part was ok

I wasn't too late for the meeting

Then when I got back I guess uh

Then I had to run back to my place real quick to get the right card cuz um

I accidentally brought the wrong one first my boss thought I took too long and I'd be better off uh

not working there anymore

Ted, how many more times are you going to get fired before you realize you can't just half-ass your way through everything and expect it to turn out well?

Yeah, I know. I need to work on getting better with that I guess

And you can't just say you're going to work on it, and then just do nothing, you know? You need to actively start taking accountability and proactively preventing things like today From happening.

I know, I know! I need to do something about it

How are you going to get a new job?

Well, you know. I guess I'll just get a few newspapers in the morning, see if there's anything in the help wanted section. I also might try signing up as a guard at DeFenderaide again, maybe

Look, if you still want to watch a movie or something tonight I have the time.

Nah, that's ok. I'm not really in the mood.

You'll never understand me, Caroline-Ann-Colette.

I have dark and terrible secrets and no woman's lips should ever meet my own.

Oh, but Tim!!! I will always love you!!

No matter how many hearts you've broken I know you'll always be true to me because I'm prettier than those other girls you cheated on!!!

yeah you are pretty hot I guess

Now about those lips... you said that um, no one should kiss them but like, what about your tongue???

yeah sure
